AUSTRALIAN UNIVERSITY TEACHER OF THE YEAR 2011 AND 2012

For an unprecedented two years in a row, the prestigious Prime Minister's Australian University Teacher of the Year has been awarded to a UWS academic for an outstanding record of advancing student learning, educational leadership, and scholarly contribution to teaching and learning.

Professor James Arvanitakis from the School of Humanities and Communication Arts and the Institute for Culture and Society (ICS) has been named the 2012 recipient of the award.

His tutorials feature open phone lines for students to text-in questions, flash mob dances to explain chaos theory, and YouTube videos discussing the history of sociology.

Professor Arvanitakis pursued an academic career after working as a merchant banker and a human rights activist in the Pacific, Indonesia and Europe. He has since completed a PhD, titled Hope and Abundance, written a text book commissioned by Oxford University Press, received invitations to teach all over the world, and developed programs to bring together students and non-government organisations in the promotion of active citizenship.

In 2011, the Australian University Teacher of the Year was awarded to UWS academic, Professor Roy Tasker.

Through interactive learning and his pioneering 'Vischem' multimedia teaching resource, Professor Tasker has enabled chemistry students to understand the invisible and dynamic world of molecules by using simulation and animation technology – helping students develop a better understanding of chemical formulas, and how to practically apply those formulas to the world around us.

The Australian Government Office of Learning and Teaching (OLT) Teaching Awards give recognition to teachers who are renowned for excellence in their fields, who have outstanding presentation skills, and who have made a broad and deep contribution to enhancing the quality of learning and teaching in higher education in Australia.

HAWKESBURY INSTITUTE FOR THE ENVIRONMENT

Climate change is one of the greatest challenges facing the world today, but understanding just how ecosystems may be affected and how they will adapt to factors such as higher temperatures and increased periods of drought is critical to inform our response as a society.

The Hawkesbury Institute for the Environment (HIE) is a research institute dedicated to investigating the impact of climate change on native trees and forests, and agricultural production systems.

Equipped with leading-edge research facilities, the Hawkesbury Institute for the Environment is the ideal environment for investigation of issues such as the impact of climate change on carbon cycling, and storage and biodiversity in terrestrial ecosystems, and how we can improve the management of plantation and natural ecosystems to support sustained carbon storage.

Research at the Hawkesbury Institute for the Environment is having a global impact. Institute researchers are nationally and internationally renowned for their work in ecology, biodiversity, and sustainability of terrestrial ecosystems; soil science and molecular microbial ecology; and plant-animal and plant-insect interactions.

Plant biology and forestry science research undertaken by the HIE were labelled 'well above world standard' in the Australian Research Council's Excellence in Research for Australia (ERA) evaluation in 2012. The UWS research achieved a score of '5', the highest ranking possible.

To learn more about the Institute, visit www.uws.edu.au/hie

UWS is undertaking research to help us understand, interpret and meet the challenges of this changing social landscape.

Based at Parramatta campus, the Institute champions inter-disciplinary, engaged and collaborative scholarship in the Humanities, Arts and Social Sciences. It takes a contemporary perspective to bring the opportunities of the digital age into all aspects of its research.

The research themes of the Institute cover such dynamic areas as intercultural dialogue, transnational culture, institutional governance, economic and cultural globalisation, heritage, creative industries and city cultures.

The high calibre of these researchers was recognised in the Excellence in Research for Australia (ERA) audits, with the University of Western Sydney awarded ratings 'above world standard', and in 2010 'well above world standard' in the field of Cultural Studies.

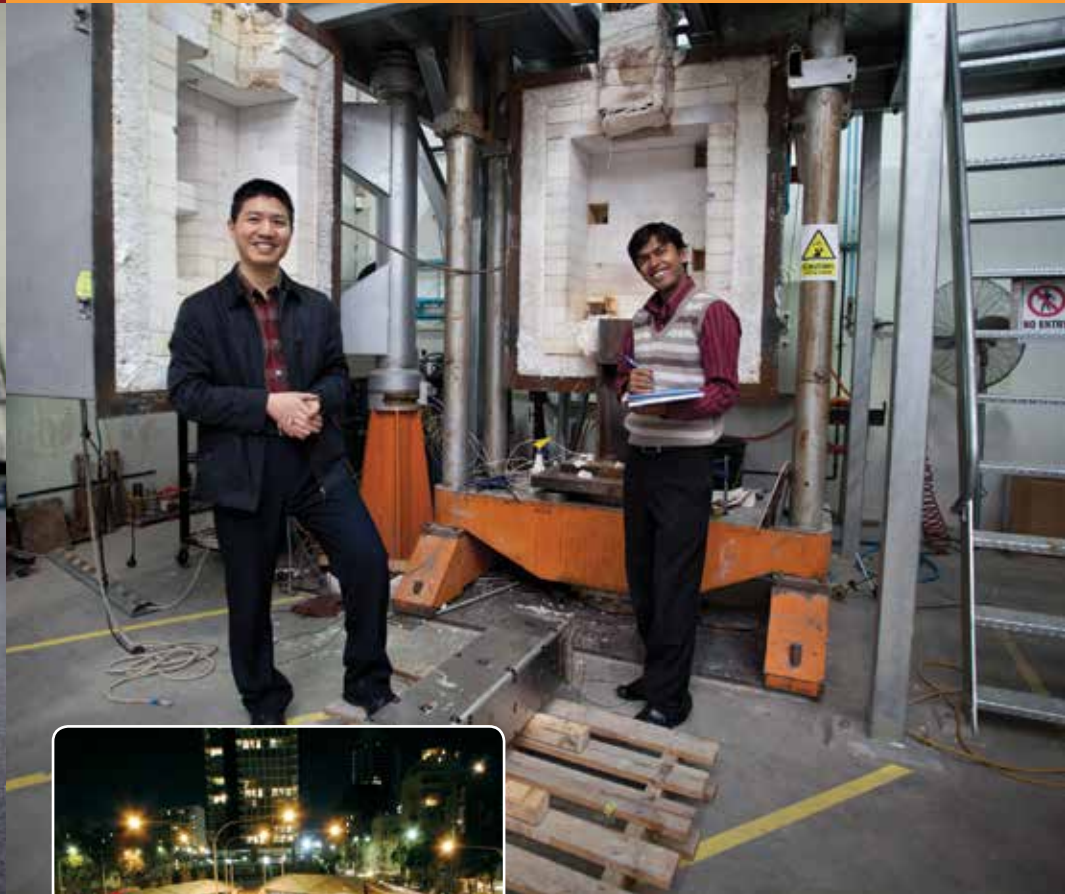

To learn more about the Institute, visit www.uws.edu.au/ics

The way we live is changing at an unprecedented speed. Economic instability, rapid developments in technology, and environmental crises are just some of the major global trends which will transform culture and society in the years to come.

The Institute for Culture and Society (ICS) builds on the proven track record of the Centre for Cultural Research (CCR), carrying out research on the transformations in culture and society in the context of contemporary global change.

The MARCS Institute conducts basic and applied research, investigating human behaviour and communication from infancy to adulthood, in real and virtual worlds, under normal, heightened (e.g. performing and creative arts) and impaired (e.g. development delay, sensory loss) conditions, at behavioural neural and computational levels of explanation.

INSTITUTE FOR INFRASTRUCTURE ENGINEERING

The MARCS Institute has a vibrant interdisciplinary research program which covers both pure and applied research into areas such as speech and language, music cognition and action, bioelectronics and neuroscience, multisensory processing, and human machine interaction.

MARCS research is explaining and enhancing human-human and human-machine communication. Using behavioural, neuroscience and computational approaches, MARCS researchers investigate factors influencing perceptual, cognitive, creative and social skills from infancy to adulthood, in real and virtual worlds, and in a range of settings.

Based on the Bankstown, Campbelltown, Kingswood and Parramatta campuses, MARCS technical facilities include state-of-the-art laboratories for the investigation of behaviour, movement and performance, brain and psychophysiology, and infant behaviour.

To learn more about the Institute, visit <http://marcs.uws.edu.au/>

A rapidly developing world needs safe, reliable infrastructure systems such as bridges, buildings, dams, roads and pipe networks. Engineers are tapping into today's advanced technology to constantly improve the performance of existing and new infrastructure.

The Institute for Infrastructure Engineering (IIE) is building on the work of the Civionics Research Centre (CRC), promoting the concept of 'Smart Engineering' which has developed through research into smart structures and smart materials.

The new Institute for Infrastructure Engineering at the University of Western Sydney is expanding the field of engineering research beyond civil and electronic engineering to consider all aspects of the analysis, assessment, design, maintenance and repair of infrastructure, including materials and systems.

Based at the Kingswood campus, the Institute also promotes 'Smart Engineering' through research into smart structures and smart materials. The Institute's Structural Research and Testing Laboratory has facilities for both static and dynamic testing of materials, structural components and assemblies.

To address future infrastructure challenges, the Institute is facilitating wider collaborations with other disciplines, including computing, mathematics, science, business and medicine.

A DIFFERENT STYLE OF TEACHING AND LEARNING

The teaching styles you will encounter at UWS and the study skills required might be very different from what you have been used to in your home country.

At UWS 'rote' learning (or memorising information) is not the main method of teaching. You will be required to understand and apply concepts and theories, and to critically examine and present a range of arguments to support your decisions.

Lectures and Tutorials

You will be required to study a full load of units (subjects) per teaching session. Generally, study is undertaken on a UWS campus involving a combination of lectures and tutorials. You will be required to attend many hours of classes each week or you may be penalised if you do not comply. You will also be expected to spend a substantial amount of unstructured time on individual reading and research outside of class.

Assessments and Assignments

Assessment methods vary from course to course. To pass most subjects you will be required to complete a number of assessment tasks or assignments during each session (semester).

These may include essays, research papers, oral presentations, fieldwork, laboratory practicals, mid-term and final exams. At the beginning of each teaching session you will be given an outline of these tasks and assignments, including the 'deadlines' (final dates) for completion. If you fail to meet these deadlines you may be penalised even though you have completed your work.

Class Participation and Understanding

You will be expected to participate in class discussions and to question your lecturers and tutors if you do not understand what is being taught and discussed. In Australia it is not considered bad manners to express views that are different from those expressed by your teacher. In fact, you will be encouraged to.

Attendance and Academic Performance

Attendance at class and submission of required work is also a condition of your student visa. The University is required to report poor attendance and poor academic performance of student visa holders to the Department of Immigration and Citizenship (DIAC).

WESTERN SYDNEY

The Greater Western Sydney region is the home of UWS and stretches from Parramatta, the geographical centre of Sydney, to the Blue Mountains on the western edge of the metropolitan Sydney area.

Greater Western Sydney is also a global centre for trade, innovation and learning with the third largest economy in Australia. Of the top 500 companies in Australia, 150 are based in the area making it the ideal location for future leaders.

Home to more than one in 11 Australians, Greater Western Sydney has the most diverse multicultural communities in the world. As an international student studying at UWS and with half the world's nations represented in western Sydney, you have every chance of feeling at home in the region.

Greater Western Sydney is also home to the largest urban Indigenous population in Australia which includes the traditional Aboriginal groups – Darug, Gandangarra and Tharawal.

UWS's commitment to work in partnership with people and organisations in the region, is proven immensely by the range of cultural groups and research groups we have.

WHAT TO BRING WITH YOU TO AUSTRALIA

Sydney is a large cosmopolitan city in which you can buy everything you need. However, you are advised to bring some items with you to Australia because many items may be more expensive here than in your home country.

- » Some students choose to bring larger electrical appliances such as rice cookers. These items are widely available in Australia but may be more expensive than your home country. Note: Australia uses 240 volt AC 50 hertz electricity and three-pin plugs to access power points.
- » Accommodation does not include linen or blankets. A sleeping bag may be useful the first few nights until you have a chance to purchase items.
- » Australia has strict customs laws. It is illegal to bring many items, such as food of any description, including herbal medicines, into Australia.

- » As it can often take some time for money to be transferred from your home country to Australia, bring enough money to cover your expenses for the first few weeks. Foreign currency can be exchanged for Australian dollars at Sydney airport. If you arrive on a weekend (Saturday/Sunday) and do not change some currency at the airport, you may not be able to change it until the next working day. If you want to use cash, you may only use Australian currency.
- » Bring some lightweight items from home to make your new place feel like home – like a decorative cushion cover or photo in your favourite photo frame.

Students from Belgium, Norway and Sweden may not be required to take out OSHC if covered by their own scheme. Students from these countries should check with their sponsors or their agent in Belgium, Norway or Sweden. OSHC is compulsory for all other students.

The cost of medical treatment is very high in Australia and you must meet any expenses not covered by OSHC. The OSHC provider for UWS is OSHC by Allianz Global Assistance. More detailed information about OSHC will be sent to you prior to your departure. Please read this information carefully.

TIPS

- » In Sydney, bargains can be found to keep your costs down. It's just a question of looking and finding cheap but good quality places to eat, places to have fun and indulge in cultural pursuits.
- » Many tourist places also have discounts for students – so make sure you ask!
- » If you want to live off campus, share accommodation with a friend and you will be able to share the cost of rent plus utilities and the cost of furnishing your apartment.
- » Reduce your eating costs by bringing your lunch to campus or cooking at home.
- » Reduce your transport costs by taking public transport or live on or close to a campus.
- » Remember your living expenses are separate to your tuition fees.

TRAVEL CONCESSIONS

Australian Government sponsored students are eligible for NSW Government travel concessions. All other international students will soon have access to NSW Government travel concessions in the form of discounts for periodic unlimited travel on buses, trains, light rail and ferries within defined regions in NSW.

www.131500.com.au

www.transport.nsw.gov.au/tags/Concessions

WORKING IN AUSTRALIA

As an international student you may work up to 40 hours a fortnight during each study session (semester) and unlimited hours when your course is not in session. Permission to work will automatically be included in your student visa.

Although you are able to work in Australia, you cannot rely on that income to fund your tuition fees or living costs for the duration of your stay in Australia.

Many international students choose to work part-time during their studies, but it is unrealistic to expect that you will find part-time work as soon as you begin looking for it. You will first need to become familiar with the city and the work areas where part-time employment is available. It is also important to understand your study obligations before you commit yourself to part-time work.

UWSCOLLEGE

ACADEMIC PATHWAY PROGRAMS

UWSCollege focuses on preparing students for undergraduate and postgraduate study by developing their academic, learning and study skills through a range of programs. This means providing you with the skills and knowledge essential for university study and working life. All programs are delivered by skilled and dedicated teachers at each of the well-resourced campuses.

UWSCollege is a not-for-profit company wholly-owned by the University of Western Sydney (UWS). It was established in 2006 from two pre-existing education facilities in which UWS had a majority interest. The College has over 18 years' experience providing English and Academic Pathway Programs to local and international students.

UNIVERSITY FOUNDATION STUDIES

University Foundation Studies prepare students for university study, both academically and socially, by offering courses that are an introduction to the knowledge and skills needed for an undergraduate degree at UWS.

When you apply for the University Foundation Studies, you must select a stream of study based on your preferred university degree. These specialisation link with university undergraduate programs.

You are able to choose from one of five specialisations of study:

- » Arts (for students wishing to study Arts, Humanities, Social Science, Psychology, Education or Languages)
- » Business
- » Computing (Standard (Two Terms) Course only)
- » Nursing, or
- » Science (for students wishing to study Science or Engineering).

Provided you achieve the required Grade Point Average (GPA), the specialisation you choose is your direct route to the first year of study in the corresponding UWS bachelor degree, e.g. you should enrol in the Arts specialisation if you intend to study the Bachelor of Arts at UWS.

This program also provides a pathway to UWSCollege diplomas and, for students who obtain exceptional results are guaranteed direct entry into the second year of study in the corresponding UWS bachelor degree, provided students achieve the required Grade Point Average (GPA)¹.

UWSCollege offers University Foundation Studies Programs to international students in two formats:

- » Standard (Two Terms) Course — this allows you to complete the program in eight months.
- » Extended (Three Terms) Course — this allows you to complete the program in 12 months.

Note: your choice of courses and the number of terms required will depend on the level of schooling completed and your academic grades.

DIPLOMA PROGRAM

UWSCollege diplomas are equivalent to the first-year of the corresponding degree at the University of Western Sydney (UWS). On successful completion of your diploma, you will gain entry to university with one year advanced standing².

Students are able to choose from nine diplomas in:

- » Arts (for students wishing to study Arts, Psychology or Education)
- » Business and Commerce
- » Construction Management
- » Engineering Science
- » Health Science (Health Promotion, Health Services Management and Therapeutic Recreation (HP, HSM, TR))
- » Health Science (Personal Development, Health and Physical Education (PDHPE))
- » Information and Communications Technology
- » Science and
- » Social Science.

Refer to the table on the next page for further details.

The Diploma Program is available in two formats. Both formats enable you to gain two valuable qualifications – a diploma and a degree

Fast-Track Program (two terms)

The Fast Track Program allows you to complete the equivalent of one university year in two terms (eight months). The fast track format offers you a fantastic opportunity to fast track your studies.

Standard Program (three terms)

The Standard Program allows you a full year (three terms) to complete your diploma. This program is suitable for students with lower entry levels, or students who may require additional support.

Note: each term is 14 weeks in duration, including one examination week and a one week mid-term break.

ACADEMIC PATHWAYS PACKAGE

If you decide to combine your University Foundation Studies course and/or diploma with a UWS degree, you will be eligible for a visa that lasts the duration of all courses.

ACADEMIC ENGLISH FOR TERTIARY STUDIES

Academic English for Tertiary Studies has been specifically designed for students with English as a second language (ESL) to enable them to communicate confidently, express ideas effectively and achieve rhetorical competence incrementally, so that they attain a level of language proficiency corresponding to the standard required for entry to Australian tertiary educational institutions.

If you do not have an IELTS or TOEFL certificate, you can enrol at UWSCollege in an Academic English for Tertiary Studies course. This course will help you gain entry to the University of Western Sydney (UWS).

This course has five modules catering for Pre-Intermediate to Advanced English level students. Each module consists of 10 weeks and includes 20 hours per week of face-to-face teaching.

ADVANCED ACADEMIC ENGLISH SKILLS

Module A: Reading and Writing

Module A provides students with the intensive writing and reading practice they need. It is designed for students who either have IELTS (Academic) 6.5 or above but only a 5.5 in reading and writing, or need to polish their reading and writing skills before entry to tertiary studies.

Module B: Listening and Speaking

Module B focuses on providing students with high level spoken communication skills for work or further study. It is designed to help improve fluency, pronunciation and public speaking skills. It combines well with Module A.

ENGLISH ENTRANCE TEST

UWSCollege offers an English language testing service to determine whether you have the English language skills required for direct entry to UWS and UWSCollege. The two-hour English Entrance Test will assess your English skills in listening, reading and writing.

DO I NEED A STUDENT VISA?

You must obtain a student visa before you come to study in Australia.

UWS participates in the Department of Immigration and Citizenship (DIAC) Streamlined Visa Processing arrangement. This means when you apply for a student visa with a Confirmation of Enrolment for an eligible course at UWS (Bachelor, Master or doctoral level) your application will be assessed as a lower migration risk, regardless of country of origin.

WHAT WILL BE THE CONDITIONS OF MY STUDENT VISA?

Student visa and temporary entry permits usually last for the period of your course. You must uphold your visa conditions while studying and living in Australia or your visa may be cancelled and you may have to leave Australia. The University is obliged to report any student to DIAC who does not attend class, or who is not making satisfactory progress in their studies. You will also be required to keep the University informed of any changes to your residential and mailing addresses. You must also maintain enough money to pay for travel, tuition, health insurance and living expenses for yourself, your partner and dependent children (including their schooling) during the duration of your stay in Australia and you will not be able to work more than 40 hours per fortnight during academic sessions. Under visa regulations you are required to leave Australia on or before the date your visa expires. Please refer to the DIAC website for details.

DO I NEED HEALTH COVER?

When you accept your offer at UWS you will need to purchase OSHC for the proposed duration of your student visa. Students from Belgium, Norway and Sweden may not be required to take out OSHC. The cost of medical treatment is very high in Australia and you must meet any expenses not covered by OSHC.

HOW MUCH WILL IT COST ME TO STUDY?
