Website for Exchange students: www.helsinki.fi/exchange

Courses taught in English: www.helsinki.fi/english/courses

Excellent website. Many courses - multiple subjects offered under the Faculty/Department headings. Some of the subjects are offered in both sessions and some are particular to either Autumn or Spring. PLEASE check on the clear and comprehensive web page for each faculty where I have not indicated the term in which the subject is taught.

There is also a Helsinki Summer School (www.helsinki.fi/summerschool).

The Web page for Helsinki reads as follows:

Courses in English - University of Helsinki

Academic year 2009-2010

This page is a starting point of access to information about the courses that are offered in English at the University of Helsinki.

These pages deal not only with courses taught entirely in English, but also with courses that are taught only partly in English or that may be offered in English if demand arises. It also covers language courses particularly designed or suitable for international students. The courses have mostly been organised according to faculty and subdivided according to discipline. When any of the course details have not been indicated, contact the appropriate department or the International Affairs Co-ordinator of the faculty for more detailed information.

In the majority of cases non-degree students (scholarship holders and exchange students) have non-restricted access to courses within their own subject and most of the other courses given in English, but sometimes restrictions may apply when the student attempts to take courses in subjects other than their own. More detailed information concerning the rights of exchange students and other non-degree students to participate in courses is best obtained from the International Affairs Co-ordinator at the appropriate faculty.

- Sociological Rational Choice Theory
- Criminological Discourses
- Contemporary Philosophy of Mind

FACULTY OF PHYSICS

Spring:

- Analytical Mechanics
- Vibration Spectroscopy of Polyatomic Molecules
- Statistical Physics
- General Physics IV (Optics)
- Basics of Mathematical Modelling
- Computational Chemistry
- Materials Science
- Acoustic-optics
- Energy Saving Semiconductor Technologies
- Modern Electronic Devices
- Quantum Field Theory Applications for Solid State and Mezosopic Systems
- Modern Theoretical Physics
- Quantum Field Theory Applications for Solid State and Mezosopic Systems
- Modern Theoretical Physics
- The World of Particles

Autumn:

- Basics of Quantum Mechanics
- General Physics (Mechanics)
- Nuclear Physics
- Electronics
- Experimental Physics III: Electricity and Magnetism
- Man and Environment
- Transmission Lines

- Introduction to Digital Signal Processing
- Novel Materials and Materials Science
- Electrodynamics
- Materials Research Methods
- Optical Phenomena in Semiconductors
- Photonics and Adaptive Optics
- Case Studies of Nuclear Accidents
- Organic Semiconductors
- Quantum Relaxation Theory
- Selected Topics of Solid State Physics
- Modelling of Processes
- Quantum Statistical Mechanics
- Solid State Ionics
- Nanotechnologies
- Solid-State Lighting Technology

FACULTY OF INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS AND POLITICAL SCIENCE

Spring:

- Belarus Studies
- Baltic States Studies
- Civilizations, Religions, and Peace
- Theory and Practice of Conflict Resolution

Netherlands: Hogeschool voor de Kunsten (Utrecht School of the Arts)

General Website: <http://www.hku.nl/web/English.htm>

Website of the International Office: <http://sscweb.hku.nl/exchange>

The Utrecht School of the Arts (HKU) offers many bachelor courses in fine art, design, music, theatre, media, games and interaction, arts education and arts management. Within these courses there are specific modules open to exchange students. As an exchange student you will take part in the courses offered in the second or third year of the full-time programmes. You will not receive a degree from Utrecht School of the Arts, but depending on the arrangements made with your home university the courses taken at HKU will count towards your degree at home.

Courses

The courses are taught in Dutch. Exchange students may attend and will be supervised in English. Most courses have identified 1 or 2 semesters which are suitable, click on the links below to find out more.

- Bachelor of Art and Technology
- Bachelor of Design
- Bachelor of Fine Art
- Bachelor of Education
- Bachelor of Music

For a list of modules available go to:

<http://www.hku.nl/web/English/BachelorProgrammes/Exchange.htm>

Students who apply MUST send a (digital) portfolio of their work. The course leaders decide on acceptance based on the application together with the portfolio.

Following is information from the Utrecht School of the Arts regarding admission of AEN exchange students to the School:

The Faculties of Music, Art, Media and Technology, and Visual Arts and Design are open to AEN students. However there are some departments where it is more difficult to accept exchange students due to the high level of interest from both Dutch and foreign students. These departments are marked with "restricted". The courses in the Faculty of Theatre and the Faculty of Art and Economics are not open to students who do not speak Dutch as the language plays too important a role in the education process. In addition, the School of Design Management is not open to exchange students.

Norway: Universitetet i Bergen (University of Bergen)

General Website: <http://www.uib.no/en>

Website of the International Office: <http://prospective.uib.no/>

The University of Bergen offers a large number of courses taught in English at both undergraduate and postgraduate level. There are also course descriptions, objectives and assessment guidelines for each course to be found there. A number of master's courses is available.

To find courses please go to <http://prospective.uib.no/> and select from the menu at the top Studies and then Courses Spring Semester 2010.

Each course is assigned a three-digit number, where the first digit is either 1 (100 courses), 2 (200 courses) or 3 (300 courses). 100 courses are beginner's courses. 200 courses involve some specialisation, while 300 courses involve a higher level of specialisation. Normally, 100 courses may only be included at the bachelor's level, while 200 courses may be included in bachelor's or master's level. 100 courses and 200 courses are listed as undergraduate courses. As a rule, 300 courses may only be incorporated into master's programmes and these are here listed as postgraduate courses

DIKULT305 / Praksisprosjekt i digital kultur
DIKULT307 / Critical perspectives on technologies and Society II
FIL301 / Research Topics in Philosophy
FIL303 / Research Topics in Philosophy
LINGMET / Methods for Language-Related Master`s programmes

Medicine, dental and health studies

Postgraduate Courses

HUB310 / Philosophy of science and research ethics
HUB315 / Cellular neurophysiology - Ion channels and membrane excitability
HUB340 / Cardiovascular (Heart) Physiology
HUCEL320 / Cell culture and cellular techniques
HUCEL363 / Cytoskeleton
HUCEL366 / Intracellular traffic
HUCEL369 / Neurochemistry
HUCEL369A / Neurochemistry
HUCEL371 / Seminar series
HUCEL372 / Tumor biology
HUCEL374 / Regulation of eukaryotic gene expression
HUFY362 / Methods in Neurophysiology
HUFY370 / Circulatory research
HUFY371 / Neurophysiological Research
HUFY372 / In vivo imaging and physiological modeling
HUIMM303 / Human immunobiology
HUIMM304 / Molecular and cellular methods in immunology
HUIMM901 / Wednesday seminars
HUIMM902 / Friday seminars

HUIMM903 / Human immunobiology
HUIMM904 / Molecular and cellular methods in immunology
HUMIK301 / Microbiology of bacteria, protozoa and fungi
HUPAT301 / Basic human pathology
HUVIR301 / Basic course in virology
HUVIR320 / Human Vaccinology
INTH313 / Globalization and Health

Natural Sciences and Technology

Undergraduate Courses

BIO210 / Evolutionary biology
GEOF211 / Numerical modelling
GEOF212 / Climatology- climate change
GEOF220 / Physical meteorology
GEOF231 / Operational oceanography
GEOL242 / Igneous and metamorphic petrology
INF223 / Category theory
INF227 / Introduction to logic
INF235 / Complexity theory
INF236 / Parallel algorithms
INF247 / Cryptology
KJEM212 / Molecular driving forces
MAT213 / Functions of a complex variable
MAT220 / Algebra
MAT232 / Functional Analysis
MAT243 / Manifolds
MAT252 / Continuum mechanics
MAT253 / Hydrodynamics
MAT255 / Reservoir simulation
MAT257 / Reservoir simulations in practice
MAT260 / Scientific computing 2
MAT262 / Image processing
MAT264 / Computational Science II
MAT265 / Parameter estimation and inverse problems
MOL211 / Virology
MOL215 / Tumor Biology
MOL217 / Applied Bioinformatics II
MOL231 / Project in Molecular Biology
PHYS201 / Quantum Mechanics
PHYS208 / Solid State Physics
PHYS225 / Instrumentation
PHYS231 / Physics of Radiation
PHYS241 / Nuclear and Particle Physics
PHYS264 / Environmental Optics and Transport of Light and Particles
PHYS291 / Data handling in physics

PTEK203 / Mass transfer and phase equilibrium
PTEK205 / Numerical techniques for process technology
PTEK212 / Reservoir Technology I
PTEK214 / Experimental Reservoir Physics
PTEK241 / Introduction to Multiphase Systems

Postgraduate Courses

BIO301 / Current topics in biodiversity, evolution and ecology
GEOF296 / Theoretical seismology
GEOF325 / Dynamics of the Atmosphere 2
GEOF334 / Microwave satellite remote sensing
GEOF336 / Advanced chemical oceanography
GEOF363 / Advanced marine geology and geophysics
GEOF374 / Seismic Risk
GEOF375 / Seismic instrumentation
GEOF395 / Advanced applied seismic analysis
GEOF397 / Advanced seismic
GEOL342 / Radiogenic and Stable Isotope Radiogenic and Stable Isotope Geochemistry
GEOL363 / Advanced sedimentology/stratigraphy
INF251 / Computer Graphics
INF271 / Combinatorial optimization
INF272 / Non-linear optimization
INF359 / Selected topics in visualization
KJEM306 / NMR-spectroscopy II
KJEM319 / Experimental Techniques in Physical Chemistry
KJEM321 / Quantum-Chemical Methods
KJEM331 / Photochemistry
KJEM336 / Industrial Organic Chemistry
MAR251 / Ethics and Welfare for Aquatic Organisms
MAR255 / Seafood Microbiology
MAR258 / Environmental Impact of Aquaculture
MAR274 / Pharmacology: Fish Diseases
MOL310 / Structural Molecular Biology
MOL311 / Project in Molecular Biology
MOL321 / Molecular Biology Literature Analysis
PHYS333 / Relativistic Heavy Ion Physics
PHYS341 / Selected topics in experimental particle physics
PHYS342 / Quantum field theory
PHYS343 / Quark and lepton physics

You may switch to other courses when you have arrived in Bergen because some courses are only held if enough students enrol and some courses are held irregularly. Contact a student advisor for further information.

Social Sciences, Law and Psychology

The majority of course units in the University of Coimbra are conducted in Portuguese. Modern Language and Literature studies are usually medium-taught (in Portuguese, English, French, German, Dutch, Spanish or Italian). Although, there is a number of course units offered in English in some Faculties and, in some cases, exchange students make arrangements with lecturers in order to be allowed to do examinations or submit assignments in English (or in another language, if both parts know it).

Below, you will find a list of course units taught in English in the academic year of 2009/2010 at the Semester 1 means Autumn 2009 and Semester 2 means Spring 2010

Slovakia: Univerzita Komenského v Bratislave (Comenius)

Comenius University main web-page

<http://www.uniba.sk/>

Faculty of Medicine - Comenius University in Bratislava The Faculty offers the study in the six-year full-time medical programs general medicine and dental medicine. The Faculty offers also the three-year full time and the four-year part time education at the first level in the following bachelor's study programs: nursery, public health care, obstetrics assistance, laboratory examining methods in health care, physiatry, balneology and therapeutic rehabilitation.

Graduates from these bachelor's study programs can continue at the master's level (except for the obstetrics assistance program).

After 6 years of study and successful passing of four state exams (internal medicine, paediatrics, surgery, obstetrics and gynaecology) graduates are conferred the title of 'Doctor of Medicine' (Medicinae Universae Doctor, MUDr.). This degree enables the holder to practice medicine in other countries. The Faculty of Medicine is recognised by the World Health Organisation (WHO) and by other institutions such as the GMC of Great Britain and the ECFMG of the United States.

The quality of medical education at the Faculty has attracted international students from all around the world for decades. From 1991, applicants may choose between two equal alternatives - they may either join the English Language Programme or study in the Slovak Language Programme together with other Slovak students (for which fluency in Slovak is requested).

Qualified high school graduates are eligible for entrance to the first year of the medical curriculum. Competence in the English language, oral and written, is a part of the entry requirement to the English Programme.

Faculty of Pharmacy

The Faculty of Pharmacy as the only one in Slovakia offers a high-quality pharmaceutical education, competitive with any similar education abroad. The scientific and educational activities of the Faculty are oriented to the fields of drugs and medicines. The study at the Faculty of Pharmacy takes five years and is unified and differentiated internally. Inner differentiation means that the subjects are divided into:

a) compulsory

b) optional, but at which attendance is compulsory, once chosen. These choices give students the possibility to choose the orientation of their future profile, either that of pharmacy and therapeutical practice, or that in research, production and evaluation of the medicament quality.

The Faculty offers the following two full-time study programs: the three-year bachelor's study program medical and diagnostic tools and the master's study program pharmacy. The high-quality of research and educational processes is guaranteed by many experts, oriented in their research work on medicaments and drugs.

Facilities of the Faculty consist of two pharmacies, where students get acquainted with comprehensive provision of citizens with the pharmacy services.

<http://www.fpharm.uniba.sk/index.php?id=633>

The Faculty of Management

belongs to the one of youngest Faculties of the University; nevertheless, with respects of its orientation, it belongs to the most attractive ones. The Faculty offers the three-year full-time and part-time bachelor's study programs management and international management; and the two-year full-time and part-time master's study programs management and international management. Graduates from the bachelor's study programs can continue in the respective master's study programs. The graduates work in managerial posts at all levels of management in state organizations and private business. In cooperation with American universities, the Faculty offers the study program for the top and middle management WEMBA (Weekend Executive Master of Business Administration), in the form of interactive lectures in English language. Graduates are conferred the academic diploma "Master of Business Administration" (MBA), without an interruption of their careers. <http://old.fm.uniba.sk/en/index.html>

The Faculty of Social and Economic Sciences

is the youngest Faculty of the University. It was founded in the year 2002, as a response to the social-economic needs of Slovakia in the integrating Europe. The Faculty offers the three-year full-time and part-time bachelor's study program social anthropology; the two-year full-time and part-time master's study program public policy; the two-year full-time and part-time master's study programs social and labor psychology, European studies, and applied economy; and the two-year full-time master's study program cognitive sciences. The structure of the programme fully matches „Public Policy“ study programmes at major foreign universities and comprises basic courses as Public Policy, Economic Aspects of Public Policy, Law and Public Policy, Public Finance, Instruments and Implementation of Public Policy, Analytical and Research Methods (Quantitative and Qualitative) etc. The study programme includes courses specialized in different sectors of public policy chosen by each student e.g. Education Policy, Social Policy, Healthcare Policy, Economic Policy, Agricultural Policy and Rural Development etc.

Jessenius Faculty of Medicine in Martin

The Jessenius Faculty of Medicine in Martin is an internationally acknowledged Faculty. It has outstanding facilities for education of theoretical and pre-clinical subjects, as well as the clinical education basis in the Martin Faculty Hospital. Similarly to the Faculty of Medicine in Bratislava, it offers the six-year full-time medical study program general medicine. The Faculty offers also the following three-year full-time and the four-year parttime bachelor's study programs: nursery, public medicine, obstetrics assistance, dental technology, radiological assistance, laboratory examining methods in health care and physiotherapy. Graduates can continue in the respective master's study programs, except for the obstetrics assistance program. The Faculty offers 14 Ph.D. study programs. Applicants must have completed the secondary education, and may sit for the entrance examinations which are written tests in biology, chemistry and English.
