

This fact sheet is aimed at staff requiring email and Internet access while overseas on official business.

Overseas data roaming is expensive. To reduce costs you may be able to access email and internet through free Wi-Fi hotspots - usually found in hotels, internet cafes, coffee shops and some universities. If this is not practical, you may need a data roaming bundle, which will significantly reduce access costs while overseas.

When a business requirement has been established for overseas email and internet access on your iPhone, Blackberry and/or laptop, a data roaming bundle can be added to your mobile plan while you travel. The bundle is on top of your normal data plan and a minimum one month charge applies.

Available on many networks around the world, data roaming bundles cover most major cities.

At the time of publication the following data roaming bundles are available to staff still using Vodafone. Telstra rates will be advised.

	Light Roaming Data Bundle	Heavy Roaming Data Bundle	Super Roaming Data Bundle
Monthly Subscription	$49	$199	$329
Capped Usage (MB)	25 MB data per month*	120 MB data per month*	200 MB data per month*
Approx. number of Emails @ 50 kb each	500	2,400	4,000

* Any unused monthly data allowance is forfeited.

On your return, ITS recommend that you check your monthly Bilmix summary to ensure bundles no longer required have been removed.
